

UNTIL

Love a tenet to enforce, so disregard its patent source,
Until we're left with broken hearts; until we finish what we start.

And we'll fight to keep the innocence alive.
And we'll fight to keep the ignorance alive.

Love is all that we endorse, so let us kill without remorse.
Until we mix the oil and water; until we poison sons and daughters.
Until there's no one left to slaughter but ourselves.
